

The «Sustainable development's» myths: the «Global getting warmer» or the global «creeping revolution»?

V.Pavlenko

The second part continues the examination of the theoretical aspects of the «Sustainable development's» conception and the directions of its practical realization. Some little known facts of the Soviet Union's involving into convergations plans of Club of Rome are discovered in the article. So the author stresses the disastrous consequences of our country's unification with the West in such an area, as the global problem's discussion. The special opinion the article pays to the present day development of those problem's studies and activities by the UN's institutes.

The today's attempts of the Russian Federation's sovereignty destruction with the help of internationalization of such problems as the population's number, the natural resource's control and Environment, are criticizing by the author.

Key words: The Sustainable development's conception, Environment, natural resources, population's number, the global plan, Club of Rome, UN, the Commission on global Governance and Development, the Commission on Globalization, the Century's Summit.

About the author: PAVLENKO Vladimir Borisovich – D-r of the political Sciences.

The Roots and Practice of Fascism

V.Schtol

In the second part of the article devoted to the General plan «Ost» it is said about real grounds of the actions of nazy leaders of Germany on the occupied territories of Poland and the USSR, directed on the «ethnic transformation», resettlement and germanization of their people. It is also examined economic aims of the Plan «Oldenburg» in the war against the USSR and the fate of its authors.

Key words: rasist theories of the East Europe, plan «Oldenburg», General plan «Ost», third reich.

About the author: SHTOL Vladimir Vladimirovich – doctor of political sciences, professor.

New Strategic Armament Treaty Ratification Capable Kill of Russia

P.Belov

It is argued the negative impact to Russian national security by new international treaty for strategic nuclear arms, whom USA is initiated.

Key words: International treaty, intercontinental ballistic missile, strategic arms reduction talks, reset, anti-missile defense, strategic defense initiative, nuclear warhead.

About the author: BELOV Peter G. – Geopolitical problem academy, chief of geostrategy department, phd.

Balkans – the Achilles' heel of Euro-Atlantic security (Part 2).

Abashidze A., Solntsev A.

In 2008, Kosovo, as part of the state of Serbia, adopted the Declaration of Independence. The U.S. backed this political move and major European states, but Russia, China, India and several other states have refused to recognize Kosovo's independence. Under the current circumstances the Serbia initiated the referral to the International Court of Justice, that ICJ issued an advisory opinion on the matter. After nearly two years, in the summer of 2010 the International Court of Justice issued an advisory opinion, which many experts have criticized legally, and in terms of establishing peace in the Balkans.

Key words: Balkans, Serbia, Kosovo, International Law, International Court of Justice, the fragmentation of international law.

About the authors: ABASHIDZE Aslan – professor PFUR and MGIMO (University), Doctor of Law, member of the UN Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights.

SOLNTSEV Alexander – Associate Professor PFUR, PhD.

Prevention of Nuclear Terrorism is Imperative of Our Times

S.Ivanov

In the article it is underlined danger of the fact of presence of huge arsenals of the nuclear weapon and radioactive materials on the Earth. Real-life threat of their hit in hands of totalitarian modes and terrorists is underlined, the reasons and occurrence conditions at the present stage of the international terrorism as the phenomena are analysed. The author comes to a conclusion that only «the nuclear zero» can rescue our civilization from possible nuclear catastrophe. As a positive example of the international cooperation in this area the author results the creation fact in 2006 of the Russian-American initiative on prevention of threat of nuclear terrorism. In its opinion, nuclear disarmament should be accompanied by new initiatives of leading world powers on restriction of manufacture and export of conventional armaments, and also efforts of the world community on settlement of regional on planet regional and internal conflicts which in many respects and serve as a nutrient medium for the extremist and terrorist organizations.

Key words: Nuclear terrorism, weapons of mass destruction, nuclear zero, the world community, disarmament, mankind rescue, radioactive materials

About the author: IVANOV Stanislav M. – the candidate of historical sciences, the leading research assistant of the Center of the international safety of Institute of world economy and the international relations of the Russian Academy of Sciences.

Geophysical weapon – myth or reality?

A.Sokolov, A.Burmakin

At present geophysical weapon is considered as hypothetical, however the present technological and scientific results make possible to create some samples of non – traditional systems of weapons to – day. The analysis of natural disasters during ten-year period persuaded experiments on application of geophysical weapons are conducted on the planet.

Key words: geophysical weapons, climatic weapons, plasma weapons, national security, ionosphere.

About the author: SOKOLOV Alexey – professor, candidate of military sciences.
BURMAKIN Alexey – candidate of military sciences.

Iraqi gas: Kurdish resources and international tender

E.Kasaev

The author reviews the Iraqi federal legislature, as well as the regulations of the Kurdistan Region, to reveal inconsistency and discrepancies between the federal and provincial legal acts with respect to the foreign investment in the energy industry. Also, the article evaluates the prospects of the gas exports from the Iraqi Kurdistan Region and the chances the Russian business have to win Iraq's third petroleum licensing round.

Key words: Iraq, Kurdistan, gas, field, tender.

About the author: KASAEV Eldar Osmanovich – expert on investment in the Middle East and African energy sector, Applicant of the Department of International Law of Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO-University), MFA of Russia.

Presumption of innocence or guilt presumption – that is the question!

B.Gabaraev, K.Denisheva

The Roman right is considered a basis of legal system of many developed countries of the modern world. However the presumption of innocence accepted in the Roman right is frequently substituted for a guilt presumption pathological predilection to which is shown in each of us as soon as we appear in a role accusing. Purely administrative reforms will not lead to cardinal improvement of a situation if we do not supersede a presumption of guilt from the consciousness.

Key words: Roman right, presumption of innocence, presumption of guilt, pathological predilection, imprisonment before the investigation court, consciousness of the person, public consciousness.

About the authors: GABARAEV Boris – Doctor of Science, Distinguished Power Engineer of Russian Federation.

DENISHEVA Karina – young journalist.

Corruption in high echelons of power in Britain

A.Gromyko

The article is dedicated to expression of different variations of corruption in the United Kingdom. Corruption is interpreted in a broad sense, including not only its classic meaning as bribery or embezzlement by a public servant but also as corruption by power. Under this category fall the use of public office for personal or political gain, interpenetration of business and political apparatus, manipulation with institutes of parliamentary democracy with the help of political leverage. Main attention is focused on examples of corruption in high echelons of power in Britain.

Key words: Corruption, lobbyism, embezzlement, bribery, British Parliament, cash for peerage, extraordinary rendition

About the author: GROMYKO Alexey A. – Deputy Director Institute of Europe, Russian Academy of Sciences; European Programmes Manager, Russkiy Mir Foundation; Chairman of the Council, Russian Regional Non-Governmental Movement “For the Support of the United Nations”; Russian National Representative at NATO – Russia Council For Peace and Security Committee.